

Crystal Lewis, Why Are You Crying

copyright Brian Ray

I'm looking for you and I'm frightened
I hear you say why are you crying
I feel you standing next to me and I am crying
I am crying, I am crying, I am looking for you

I feel the deepest part of my life is gone
I was healed, I was held and I'm holding on When you've been forgiven of so much you love so much
When you called my name right then I knew that if had to be you

I've seen the Lord
He is alive
I've seen the Lord
He is alive

I was there when they pierced your side
I was there when the held you high
I saw you die, They took you away then you came to me
I was crying and you spoke to me you said go tell the world

I've seen the Lord
He is alive
I've seen the Lord
He is alive

(repeat)
