

CueStack, Through the Night (feat. David Hassellhoff)

It's time to rise up
Take back control
So dark is the night we face
But we won't face it alone

We stand undivided
We will never fade away
Our walls might shake
They won't collapse
As a new dawn lights this day

When darkness falls not all light is fading
I will be the one always waiting
For you to find the faith you need

To fight for what you truly believe in
Find the voice that guides you from within
Become the flame that burns in me

Through the night
Through the night forever
Through the night we ride until dawn is in sight