

Curve, You Don't Know

I'm sick of you my sickly friend
I used to think on you I could depend
but now I know to my power
the truth of it, the day and the hour
You can trust me
You can trust me
I'm your ally
I'm your albi
I've made a view my tricky friend
There was a time when you and I could pretend but now I know to my shame that there's no reason, there's no blame
You don't know your destiny yet
You're too wrapped up in what you think
That's all you want to hear
That's all you want to share
'Cause you don't know your destiny yet
You're too wrapped up in what you think
That's all you want to hear
That's all you want to share
'Cause you don't know your destiny yet
You don't know (x3)
You're too wrapped up in what you think
You don't know (x3)
Yeah (x4)
I'm sick of you my sickly friend
I used to think on you I could depend
but now I know to my power
the truth of it, the day and the hour
You don't know (x12)
Yeah (x4)
Oh yeah
Yeah
Yeah
You don't know (x24)
Yeah (x5)
You can trust me (x4)
