

Cyndi Lauper, Mincing Words

sometimes when I lose my head I can't make sense of what you said but you don't mean it or that's what you say all the conversation seems to slip away oh maybe you can say it better (you can say it better...better)

I can listen
people do it all the time, baby
we can make it better (we can make it better) cause mincing words (mincing words) will never rhyme they never rhyme

same excuses that go round and round push them up just to knock them down confuse the issue to shift the blame and lose the picture like a puzzle game you never notice if you're right or wrong (right or wrong) it becomes a contest of the weak and the strong (weak and the strong, baby) there is no reason for you to pick a fight (no, no) when we lose heart its time to shut out the light mhhh hmmm

oh maybe you can say it better (you can say it better...better)
I can listen
people do it all the time, baby
we can make it better (we can make it better)
cause mincing words (cause mincing words)
Will never rhyme
baby never rhyme
will never rhyme
