

D:a:d, Summer Me Soon

A pigeon in a wet tree
On a blind day
I keep away from the ice
It's a frozen earth day
Froze time, froze place
Froze my tongue in between a yes & a no.
Sparrows in a line, rainclouds wander
I got nowhere to go..

Because my head's full of leaves
I'm naked like the trees
I'm making old October talk;
But all I do is crawl..
Won't you summer me soon
Yeah, won't you summer me soon

If the sun would rise behind a grey sky
I would fear for each step
That a tree would burst out of my mind
Mashed on the sidewalk
Grey snow in the recent rain
Serves to remind me
That winter is back here again

Because my head's full of leaves
I'm naked like the trees
In the cold November breeze
I just stand here and freeze
Won't you summer me soon
Won't you summer me soon
Won't you summer me soon
Won't you summer me soon
'Coz I just stand here and freeze
Won't you...
