

D'Sound, You Don't Wanna Know Me

you pull me close you hold me tight say all of yours is mine tonight you've allowed mine what's on my mind to you you wanna dive into my maze and get it through the foggy haze you wanna know the mysteries of me

I really do appreciate the way you treat me like a mate before you try to get me into your bed but im no longer drunk and blind and judging from my state of mind that you won't last no longer if I spoke coz u don't wanna know me you don't wanna know me well and if you really knew me you'll know just how I felt

and everybody wants meat but nobody wants it raw and nothing you can't take it but you don't know what you got in store.

you wanna feel so right and strong you only wanna carry on and nothing I could say would turn you off but you don't know the faintest thing about the mood that I am in you feel the heat and why not call it low

but you don't know what you got in store.

but you don't know what you got in store.
you don't know what you got in store. coz I don't want it anymore.
