

Daan, Neverland

I've seen guys like you
I've seen skies more blue
No escape for your
Neverland needs you
No one passes true
Sleep is what you do
Daymares all come true
Neverland calls you

Land that no one needs
Land where grow no seeds
Land where your heart bleeds
Neverland indeed
Land where ends unfold
Land where I've been told
Land where young gets old
Neverland gets cold

Ain't no morning call
Play no extra ball
Watch Icarus fall
But never land at all
Ain't no lands like these
Ain't no stranger trees
Beg you on my knees
Neverland here please

Sleep in empty rooms
Brides but never grooms
Blossom never blooms
In this land of dooms
In my childish hood
Stealing golden fruit
Sure my days were good
Far from Neverhood

Words are muddy sand
Nothing said is meant
Beauty pays no rent
Here in Neverland
Sweet would be the grape
More then I could take
If I could escape
Cross the Neverlake

Now as we are through
Life changed me and you
Play our bad tapes too
I zoom into you
Counting my mistakes
Every one I made
When my debts were paid
In Neverland I stayed

Someday you'll come down
To my underground
In these pools we'll drown
Never leave this town
Try to comprehend
Take it from a friend
I Will wait my end
I need Neverland
