

DaBaby, DON'T LET EM LIE

Yeah, coward ass niggas ain't
Yeah, coward ass niggas ain't, uh yeah
Coward ass niggas ain't made it like baby

Yeah, coward ass niggas ain't made it like baby
Kirk, stand on this shit like I'm Durk
Stand on this shit like the sole of my shoes every day I get up, go to work
Uh huh, know it's God, I love God, I believe in my God, but I ain't been in nobody's church
I stand on the business for me so the day I go free, don't go buy me no motherfucking shirt
Don't be crying and buying no motherfucking flowers, I did my thing while I'm Earth
Jonathan was the one that got everything turnt, niggas play, niggas got burnt
Never went sad 'bout a hoe, gave a lot of handouts, made sure everybody work
I'm the truth, that lil nigga for real
I'm the truth and yell at niggas still
My mama ain't driving shit 'less it's a Benz, ain't crossing out none of my niggas to win
My brother can't work for no one but theyself
Or I wan't support, it's already up for my daughters
Need to go finish my will, but I ain't into talking 'bout death of myself with my lawyer
And to my first born baby, Serenity, keep on loving your sisters
Keep on being that black girl, princess, don't never let none of this get you
And to my second born blessing, Lil Nova, keep on running shit over
It don't matter what your daddy say, they say show 'em?, teach 'em how this Kirk shit going
To my youngest born baby, Velour, it's so much bullshit around you and internet shit that don't matter
Everything about you, I adore
Your sister gone tell you how we feel about you 'cause she gone be nine at the time that you're four
No matter what came with my babies, I play like a sport, daddy he always came back with more
Yeah, nigga
But hold up, this part for my nephew and my nieces
And y'all know that y'all daddy, he loves you even though daddy no longer breathing
Rather crash than to be without y'all, that sound like a good enough reason
But ain't no more fucking excuses
Aye yo, big brah I miss you, I got you, don't worry, they eating
To my nieces, your uncle tough 'cause I'm trying to teach you to hustle
And be great, never need no nigga
Even if it's me, look at me and say "fuck you"
And to my nephew, big Doo, ya act just like your daddy lil nigga, you gone carry another one
And when I look up at you I can feel my big brother, its never on you it's in you and I love you lil nigga

Yeah, you bitch ass niggas ain't uh
Coward ass niggas ain't
Coward ass niggas ain't made it like Baby...
