

Dag Nasty, One To Two

there are things I'd like to say that I've said too many times before things I should have done instead of looking for a way to get out you'll never know the sorrow I felt or the hours I've laid awake thinking about just what you said how could you know how I felt?
I never took the time to figure it out or see how the problems arose I tried to blame the two of you I can only blame myself for the pain we felt there are words I should have spoken but I kept my f~cking mouth shut instead words would've made the difference but they always stayed unsaid why won't you ever see?
why won't you even see?
it's not just me
