

Dakona, Ordinary Hero

She's got a feeling she's not quite as cool as she thought she was
Yeah, yeah, oooo
She loves her bob-top, she hates all the poor kids that rise above
Oooo, no
She will never shake your hand, she dont understand
That everybody needs somebody's love

Chorus:

I threw away my super key
I'm just an ordinary hero.
Throw them all away,
Because we're all the same
A bunch of ordinary heroes

He loves his ego, he feeds it whenever he gets the chance
(Oh he loves being him)
He hates the humble, he picks on the victims of circumstance
(That just dont make sense)
He will never shake your hands, oh dont understand
That everybody needs somebody's love

Chorus

I'm a hero, he's a hero, everyone between's a hero
Everybody needs somebody's love
I'm a hero, she's a hero, everybody here's a hero
Everybody needs somebody's love
I'm a hero, we're all heroes
Everyone believes in heroes
Everybody needs...everybody needs

Chorus
