

Dakota Moon, Violet

I cant seem to reach through the heartache that you cling to I can only give you what I have today

My arms can only reach so far tell me how to get to where you are (chorus)
Violet, dont save regrets like pennies for a rainy day they'll just weigh you down until somehow you throw them all away....violet

I cant rewrite your history or erase the painful memories
I can only give you what I have today (yeah)

For a lifetime Ill be around until the walls you built come tumbling down

(chorus)

bridge Dont be afraid to let me see you cry you can yell and scream and weep until the tears are running dry Ill still be by your side

(chorus)
