

Dallas Green, This Sudden Injury

Stay the night, and I promise I won't die
Without you there and I can't and I can't close my eyes
But I can't leave myself tonight
And today I was still lost inside

And now waiting for everything
To fall into place
Waiting for everything
To fall

Most nights I cry myself awake
And she waits, my love, my love falls away
Well I sit alone, again today
Wonder why everything went this way

And now waiting for everything
To fall into place
Waiting for everything
To fall into place
Waiting for everything
To fall
And I cry myself awake
And I cry myself awake