

Damhnait Doyle, Say What You Will

If I were to die today my life would be more than okay
For the time that I spent with you
Its like a dream come true
If this was a last goodbye
No more tears to dry
I would say it one more time
Its been more than fine
How could've known
How could've shown

Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm
Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm

If you were to walk away
Know you couldn't stay
Think of all the times we've had
All the good and bad
How could've known
How could've shown

Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm
Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm

All the time that I was holding back
Just trying to protect myself
I want you to know
I loved you more than that

Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm
Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm
Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm
Say what you will before it's too late
Say what you will mmhmm

If I were to die today my life would be more than okay