Damien Jurado, Yuma, Az

Once met a girl in Yuma, Arizona Whose mother was dyslexic like mine Grampa owned a ranch, was where she learned to dance I hear she goes out dancing all the time

When it rains, it pours in Yuma, Arizona And when the sun goes down You know where she'll be found Dancing out in the street

She met a boy who worked as a waiter Down at the local five and dime She took him, it's where he learned to dance I hear they go out dancing all the time

When it rains, it pours in Yuma, Arizona And when the sun goes down You know where they'll be found Dancing out in the street

When it rains, it pours in Yuma, Arizona And when the sun goes down You know where I'll be found Dancing out in the street
