

Damnells, Electrric Harmony

the clock would ring just like a bell the green in her eyes dropped out and fell everywhere
but I don't care I can see that she's made of something else entirely has she completely gone crazy she kissed me back and ran she's my electric harmony and I'm her little paper tree she looks me up and down again she's looking out and I'm looking in
she's my electric harmony I've counted all the things I can see the spots and bumps and valleys that are keeping you in then you begin to become a million things I tried to gather all of them but I couldn't sing has she completely gone crazy
she kissed me back and ran
she's my electric harmony
and I'm her little paper tree
she looks me up and down again
she's looking out and I'm looking in
she's my electric harmony
did I catch your name?
was it something weird or something strange?
did I catch your name? did I catch your name?
was it something strange?
she's my electric harmony
and I'm her little paper tree
she looks me up and down again
she's looking out and I'm looking in
she's my electric harmony