Damone, New Change Of Heart

You're talkin' like you're goin' somewhere Tell me where and I will follow You're dressing up and combing your hair Like you won't be back tomorrow Whoa yeah

I don't wanna Think it over Cause I've known from the start Every morning brings a new change of heart

I've been hangin' out with my friends Drinkin', smokin', watchin' TV yeah I only want to see you again How did I let this happen to me Whoa yeah

I don't wanna
Think it over
Cause I've known from the start
That I want you
On my shoulder
Lying here in the dark
Every morning brings a new change of heart

When I turn around I know You're never at the door Funny how you love the ones you're lying for Love the ones you're dying for

I don't wanna Think it over Cause I've known from the start That I want you On my shoulder Lying here in the dark Every morning brings a new change of heart
