

Dan Adriano, Let The Stars Play

Leave the stars out
I miss them tonight
Not as bright as when you're right here, I can feel you outside
So leave the stars out
I miss them tonight
If I could be anywhere
I would lay by your side
If I could be anywhere
I would lay by your side under a night
That is now over
The moonlight is already gone
Let the moon shine like a bottle in its light
I'll be staring to the dawn
Promise I won't be late
So let the moon shine like a bottle in its light
I'll be staring to the dawn
Promise I won't be late
If I could stare with any one
I would stare by yours
