

Dan And Shay, We Should Get Married

Yeah I know that we just met
So pardon my drunk confidence
And I know you don't know me yet
But my heart skipped 10 steps ahead

Yeah you can call me crazy
But I think maybe
We should start forever right now

We should get married
Take it out to Vegas
Find a little chapel
Hire us an Elvis
Pink limousine longhorns on the hood
Drinking champagne out the sunroof we could Get you in a white dress
I could rent a cheap suit
Feed each other wedding cake
Book a little honeymoon
7 days in Paris
Yeah I'm talking Tennessee
Ain't no point in waiting
Baby I'm just saying
We should get married

We could stay here for one more drink
Or we could double down on some pawn shop rings Give a heads up to your mom and dad
Or we could let 'em know when we get back

I hear them church bells ringing
The choir singing
See you walking down the aisle

We could take it nice and slow
We could book a flight, let's go
If you want me to I'll get down on one knee
