

Dan Balan, Sugar Tunes

It's stuck in my mind
This melody line
Mai-a-heee, Mai-a-ha-ha
It's stuck in my mind
This melody line
Mai-a -heee, Mai-a-ha-ha.

I found my role,
The gold is too cold.
I chose the yellow tie,
It fits well with her eyes.

Ten weeks in a row
We were licking honey melon
On that tree,
It wasn't me
I just found the way to say it.

Sugar tunes from nowhere made my day
Numa numa yey
Numa numa numa yey.
Jumping till I broke the wings of blame
I'm so glad I did it my way.

The gates are closed,
I came so close,
She said you've gotta try
Just listen to the signs.

Ten weeks in a row
We were licking honey melon
On that tree,
It wasn't me
I just found the way to say it.

Sugar tunes from nowhere made my day
Numa numa yey
Numa numa numa yey.
Jumping till I broke the wings of blame
I'm so glad I did it my way.

Sugar tunes from nowhere made my day
Numa numa yey
Numa numa numa yey.
Jumping till I broke the wings of blame
I'm so glad I did it my way.

It's stuck in my mind
This melody line
Mai-a-heee, Mai-a-ha-ha
It's stuck in my mind
This melody line
Mai-a -heee, Mai-a-ha-ha.

Mai-a-ha-ha.

Sugar tunes.

Sugar tunes from nowhere made my day
Numa numa yey
Numa numa numa yey.
Jumping till I broke the wings of blame
I'm so glad I did it my way.

Sugar tunes from nowhere made my day
Numa numa yey
Numa numa numa yey.
Jumping till I broke the wings of blame
I'm so glad I did it my way.
