

Dan Hartman, We Are The Young

We're the ones
With the runaway eyes
We're the ones
Who can improvise
Give us room
And a hot situation
We believe in Positive stimulation

(We are the young)
We are the young
With the modern attitude
Breaking down the walls
Breaking all the rules

(We are the young)
Tomorrow comes
And we might go away
So we don't worry
'Bout the price we pay

We are the young
Oh, we are the young
(We are the young)

Every street
Is an arcade of dreams
I found downtown
Exploding at the seams
With lights and sounds
And the soul parade
Light and blue color
promenade

(We are the young)
We are the young
With the modern attitude
Breaking down the walls
Breaking all the rules

(We are the young)
Tomorrow comes
And we might go away
So we don't worry
'Bout the price we pay

(We are the young)
We are the young
With the modern attitude
Breaking down the walls
Breaking all the rules

(We are the young)
Tomorrow comes
And we might go away
So we don't worry
'Bout the price we pay

Another way to take control
A brand new day to rock and roll

Another way to take control
Brand new day to rock and roll

(We are the young)
We are the young
With the modern attitude
Breaking down the walls
Breaking all the rules

(We are the young)
Tomorrow comes
And we might go away
So we don't worry
About the price we pay

We are the young
