

Dance Gavin Dance, Lemon Meringue Tie

caught between one thick line, I can never see in the dark can you see at all and now you go Slip me the vicodin
this world is upside down night at the symphony, the bar is closing down slip me an antidote, empty the cashbox out
And I don't know why I fight for you this way Take the call and quickly lie about who you've been seeing lately then forget about it all Stage lights are burning up, running faster to this spot, staring at these faces, torn from all these pla Mace yourself, blame someone else fall face down fluid leaking out your eyeballs its okay no one will believe you Hey girl You're the best
I'm a sucker, maybe I should fuck her now.
