

Danger Radio, Paris And Helen Pt. 1

The fires out no hands will burn.
The city's ablaze tonight.
This boy stands aside his house has been torched.
Set by the match that this woman holds.
What a beautiful site to watch the fire of his life.
The fires of his life.
The set of loves arrived.
And I can turn off the room light, he no longer hides.
