

Dangerous Muse, Apart

Long distance never works.
You're making a mistake.
Cut your losses and say goodbye,
remove the stake.

They don't know our love.
Have they even tried to risk, to fail, to right
the ends that come untied?

They don't feel how we do
and we can't change our hearts
for theirs, though times we want to.

They don't think like we do
and we can't change their minds,
though times, again we try to.

We are two minds too far apart,
held hostage by our hearts.
We are two minds too far apart,
held hostage by our hearts.

Long distance never works.
You're making a mistake.
So say goodbye.
No.

They don't know our love.
They don't care enough to try -- to fix what they untie.

They don't feel how we do
and we can't change our hearts
for theirs, though times we want to.

They don't think like we do
and we can't change their minds,
though times, again we try to.

We are two minds too far apart,
held hostage by our hearts.
We are two minds too far apart,
held hostage by our hearts.

We are two minds, two minds ...
We are two minds, two minds ...
We are two minds ... I love you --
I'll see you in my dreams.
