

Daniel Cirera, Castle Of Sand

We live in a castle of sand.
We let our will be your command
We're use to storm and rain
We don't care for one, we're all the same

We know where to go when the night too bright
We stay up until dawn in the pail moonlight
Trust us like you never trusted no one before

We greet you hand in hand
There's always room in a castle of sand
We want you in our home
Come stay us, come stay with us make it your own...home
