

Daniel Powter, Beauty Queen

When your laughter's around still there right in the face and you lay on the ground wonder often to space it laugh at your bad it take what they see but you are good enough for me

I see you run to the moon and you left us behind was all just too cruel or we're just to one kind

I hope you remember I hope you're clear that you are good enough for me yeah you are good enough for me

You are learning how to fly away my beauty queen from yesterday and how's it felt to fall from grace coz I never had the chance to say that you are good enough good enough for me

If I can go back to the place There would be time I must understood even though it's complicated I can seem to overstate it I think finally The moment should go would you kiss me good bye

Wherever you go
I hope you believe
that you are good enough for me
yeah you are good enough for me

I guess I wasn't very strong I should've told you I was wrong and i wish i had a second chance coz I really need to understand Why you have to fly away

my beauty queen from yesterday
and how's it felt to fall from grace I never had the chance to say that you are good enough good enough for me
