

Daniel Powter, Lie To Me

I knew this girl named Detroit Cool
That lived up in my block
At 6 foot 2 her knee socks high
The class of 80 rocks
She got hips that sway for you
She got legs that never really stop

She asked me if my mama dressed me
And I do like I should
From East Delror and fifty first
I'm on this neighbourhood
She just smiles and says to me
I just want to know if we are good

She said. Tell me once again why would you lie to me.
She said do me like you should why would you try for me.
It all depends on you, where would you rather be?
Because I've got everything you want.
Take me back to yours cause that's the best I want

You can't trust me
You won't make if I put you in the mood
She said no, no I've been there before you've got that attitude
You sold me out before all this
And now I'm fabulous without you

Tell me once again why would you lie to me.
She said do me like you should why would you try for me.
It all depends on you, where would you rather be?
Because I've got everything you want.
Take me back to yours

Why it takes so long
It's all gone wrong
And I can't say what
Cause I've got everything you need....
Who says I could use the time for you to believe

Tell me once again why would you lie to me.
She said do me like you should why would you try for me.
It all depends on you, where would you rather be?

Tell me once again why would you lie to me.
She said do me like you should why would you try for me.
It all depends on you, where would you rather be?
