

Dante Thomas, Money Can't Buy

yeah, ohhh baby, ohhh

she lives a high life in the city never a time in her life she had a 9-5 she has a penthouse in Manhattan she's close to the sky so at times she believes she can fly with all of her money hurts to know the truth and she don't understand she can't buy her way to heaven but what is it worth when you're living in the city? your heads to the sky, but there's some things money can't buy money can't buy babe,

money can't buy babe,
money can't buy babe, yeah she travels overseas on vacation but still she believes there's no place like US of A she's into alot of towns full of actions shes quick to announce that there's no fun like New York City

with all of her money
it hurts to know the truth she don't understand she can't buy her way to heaven but what is it worth, when you're living in the city?
your heads to the sky but there's some things money can't buy

money can't buy babe,
ohhh money can't buy babe, yeah, money can't, buy baby, money can't buy, yeah
money can't buy
yeah, money can't buy money can't buy, ohhh

her heart is so uneasy not what she wants to see she wants more understanding of where she needs to be, yeah

money can't buy
ohhh, baby, money can't buy
money can't buy
money can't buy baby...
