

Dante Thomas, She Says

I've been here before
but never made a choice instead I made the most of a bad situation but who's to say I won't, walk right out that door and leave the only love that I've ever known

she says that she loves me
but not the way she acts towards me
but if I leave her will she stop me?
or will she let me go?
she says that she loves me
but not the way she acts towards me
but if I leave her will she stop me?
or will she let me go?

never was a time so perfect in my eyes that makes it easy to believe that we'll never change cause what does she feel if she doesn't feel love for me?
is this a game, and am I just a playing piece?
if anything, just let me think cause she loves her man that's what she says

she says that she loves me
but not the way she acts towards me
but if I leave her will she stop me?
or will she let me go?
she says that she loves me
but not the way she acts towards me
but if I leave her will she stop me?
or will she let me go?

she says that she loves me
but not the way she acts towards me
but if I leave her will she stop me?
or will she let me go?
she says that she loves me
but not the way she acts towards me
but if I leave her will she stop me?
or will she let me go?
