Danzig, The Coldest Sun

Blessed morning rays Blessed ice Kiss the hand that offers this Kiss the hand that offers life

There's no one Alone Scream, "I'll always need you" There's no love awakened In your home

Oh, there's something out there alone The coldest sun that I found There's something out there alone The coldest sun where I lie

Empty offering That you hold Kiss the hand that clings to life Blessed cold

Oh, there's something out there alone The coldest sun that I found There's something out there alone The coldest sun that I found There's something out there alone The coldest sun that I found Coldest sun that I found
