

Darin, One True Flame

For the longest time
It's been known to mine
Was trying to understand
I've been looking for
That part of me
Out of touch and out of hand
Everything I thought I knew
Loved proved me wrong
For all the times that I've held on
I should have let go.

Cause when you find the one you know
She's the heart inside your soul
She's the one that looks at you
And gives the feeling you've come home
There's a place it all begins
Where together never ends
And the more we are the more we feel the same
One true flame.

All the foolish games
That we have to play
To learn from our mistakes
We go on and on
We convince ourselves
That this is what it takes
But nothings really what it seems
And no one really knows
It's only now that I can see
And realise

Cause when you find the one you know
She's the heart inside your soul
She's the one that looks at you
And gives the feeling you've come home
There's a place it all begins
Where together never ends
And the more we are the more we feel the same
One true flame.

Oh, you're everything
That I ever dreamed
But never had 'til now
Looking back I see,
It was meant to be
It was you that showed me how
Thought I'd been in love before
But I wasn't even close.

Cause when you find the one you know
She's the heart inside your soul
One true flame.

Theres a place it all begins

Ooooooh.
