

Dave Dudley, Farewell To Arms

Farewell to arms so warm at night farewell to hands that could touch me just right
We had real love way back one time
That's all in the past so farewell to arms and eyes and lips that once were mine
Farewell to kisses made of fire farewell to eyes always filled with desire
I don't know how or where or when
It all went wrong so farewell to arms and eyes and lips that once were mine
Farewell to arms so warm at night farewell to hands that could touch me just right
We had real love way back one time that's all in the past so farewell to arms
