Dave Dudley, Journey To The Corner Of Your He

Like an Indian that's headed for his horse Like a muddy river you can't change my cause Got my heart and mind made up and I am ready now to start On my journey to the center of your heart Well you beat everything I've ever seen You're a treasure chest with all the best parts of my dreams I have never wanted anything that tore me all apart Like my journey to the center of your heart [piano] Like a bullet from a mighty mighty gun Beat me on the head but that won't stop me none If the world turns out the lights I'll keep on coming in the dark

On my journey to the center of your heart

Well you beat everything ...

Like my journey to the center of your heart
