

Dave Dudley, Thirty Eight And Lonely

She's hurt so many men say they've loved her
She gave herself not knowing they're all alive
Tonight she sits alone no longer wanted wishing she could relive her life
Thirty seven single years has her thinking what good did it do to her so kind
She's been the fool of many lie it lovers
She believed in the words I love you time after time
At midnight she'll be thirty-eight and lonely after all the lady game she's still alone
At midnight she'll be thirty-eight and lonely
Another wasted year another lie and lover gone
[guitar]
She's making up new glance for the future she's not gonna be so easy anymore
She's movin' to a new town meet new faces
It's the same old plan she made the year before
At midnight she'll be thirty-eight...
