

David Cook, Avalanche

I feel alive beside you
And all at once, I am whole again
We fall into each other
Your atmosphere is all I'm breathing in
And in this rush, we are crushed

Carry me down, rolling in your arms
Cause I can't remember ever falling this hard
Tell me tonight, all that we have been
Was it nothing more, then noise inside my head
Crashing down, crashing down
In your avalanche
In your avalanche

These scars we wear remind us
The more we change, the more we're all the same
Swept up in this emotion
We've fumbled through and made the same mistakes
Cause we are led, to the edge

Carry me down, rolling in your arms
Cause I can't remember ever falling this hard
Tell me tonight, all that we have been
Was it nothing more, then noise inside my head
Crashing down, crashing down
In your avalanche
In your avalanche

Carry me down, rolling in your arms
Cause I can't remember ever falling this hard
Tell me tonight, all that we have been
Was it nothing more, then noise inside my head

Carry me down, rolling in your arms
Cause I can't remember ever falling this hard
Tell me tonight, all that we have been
Was it nothing more, then noise inside our heads
Crashing down, crashing down

Was it nothing more, then noise inside our heads
Crashing down, crashing down

I feel alive beside you
And all it was, I am whole again
