

David Cook, I Did It For You

Today's not the same as everyday,
It's far from ordinary
The pain I endure, you're my cure,
but my mistakes had led me
Far away from you

You turn away
From all the things I've been trying to say
And all those promises I shouldn't have made
I did it for you

Mile by mile
Feelings I just can't reconcile
My heart's on a string, his broken wings
Who knew I'd be so fragile
Far away from you

You turn away
From all the things I've been trying to say
And all those promises I shouldn't have made
I did it for you

I've searched my sole
And all these feelings that I can't control
And you're the one thing that can make me whole
I did it for you

Try to let you know
Try to let you know
Try to let you know

Today's not the same
Is everyday, it's far from ordinary

You turn away
From all the things I've been trying to say
And all those promises I shouldn't have made
I did it for you

I searched my sole
And all these feelings that I can't control
And you're the one thing that can make me whole
I did it for you
