

David Gray, Faster Sooner Now

Hey now, you got me by the tongue
I feel like theres nowhere I belong
And theyre working it pretty hard
And theyre selling it by the yard
But its more than I can afford
Thats all that I know
Leader, it comes as no surprise
See now, these are coins that were his eyes
Silver dollars and hoods of steel
Tell me nothing can be revealed
The more you get it the less you feel
Thats all that I know
Starts a shivering in my spine
And a fever I cant define
It gets colder the higher you climb
Thats all that I know
You kill me with every word you say
Im dead now, along with faith and chivalry
Silver dollars and hoods of steel
Tell me nothing can be revealed
The more you get it the less you feel
Thats all that I know
Colder the higher you climb
Colder the higher you climb
Colder the higher you climb
Thats all that I know
