

David Houston, Loser's Cathedral

There's a place you can go when you're lonely and the world turns its back on you
So if you've got a heart at last on apart someone's there to tell your troubles to
To a man on the street it's a barroom to a wife a place where cheaters go
To a girl with green eyes it's a place to hear sweet lies
And the only home a fool would even know
It's a loser's cathedral a chapel for tears
A loser's cathedral and you're always welcome there

Many times I've heard temptation calling with a voice that whispers soft and low
But I never get that fool and I owe it all to you
Thanks to your sweet love I'll never go
To a loser's cathedral a chapel for tears...
