

David Houston, Lullaby To A Little Girl

Hush a bye don't you cry baby sleep till tomorrow
And though mommy is gone your daddy's still here
Though I can't explain why she went away
Let's pray that tomorrow she'll come back to stay [piano - steel]
So little girl close your eyes and dream of tomorrow
For if you dream long enough your dreams will come true
Then you make believe world will be real wait and see
When you open your eyes and see mommy and me
