

David Lindley, More Than Eva Braun

(D. O'Keefe)

He would have loved you more than Eva Braun
You would have been his kind of girl
You'd have been there right beside him
As he drove around the world
And when he stopped, you'd have pushed him on
And he'd have loved you more than Eva Braun

He would have loved you more than Eva Braun
You would have held the secret to his heart
And when they found you in the bunker
They'd've had to tear you both apart
But if you'd said, "Argentina?" he'd have gone
And he'd have loved you more than Eva Braun

A broken heart is like a Nazi
And a Nazi's like the blues
The fuerher that you have
The fuerher you have to lose

He would have loved you more than Eva Braun
If he'd only known what fun you really are
You'd have shown him how a fresh wound's
More exciting than a scar
(He wouldn't have cared you're not a natural blonde)
And he'd have loved you more than Eva Braun
Oh, he'd have loved you more than Eva Braun
Ja, he'd have loved you more than Eva Braun
