

David Phelps, Power

No mountains ever moved one inch at my command.
No waters parted at my feet.
Im just a witness to the wonders God can do
Through willing instruments like me.
And when my best seems insignificant and frail
He offers me
The source of strength
That cannot fail

Chorus

Power, straight from the Father
Making me stronger
And I know its not my own.
Power, straight from the Father
Love like no other
Ive ever known.

There are days when circumstances spin out of control
In ways I just cant understand.
Its as if the best of my intentions have conspired
To reveal how powerless I am.
But there is One whose voice alone
Brings me peace
And when on high
He hears my cry
He gives to me.

This holy energy can save, redeem and heal
Like electricity, it flows through me
And I can feel
