Days Of The New, Fighting With Clay

I've kept my difference I look at you another way Nobody knows you Nobody even knows your name

But you keep on fighting Fighting with my clay I've kept my difference I look at you another way

You're receiving up your ass Everything is wrong again No sense to me, destruction's found its way in Fighting with my clay