

De-Lite, Come On In The Dreams Are Fine

Thank the days for our dreams
Thank the days
Thank the days for our dreams
Thank the days

There are a thousand different ways
We must try to hear each other say
No matter how different, it's still the same
We all feel love and pain

Slip off your views
Unbutton your mind
Stay awhile 1000 miles
Light a candle to your soul
Deja vu 1000 miles old

Close the door and lock the time
Jump over the wall
On the other side
Come on in, the dreams are fine
Now I know why I like this place

I pull the covers
Over my head
Black velvet darkness
Above my bed
It's beyond what I've seen or read
Now I know why I thank the days
