

De/Vision, All I Ever Do

All I ever do
I steal myself away from you where love was destined to decay just disappeared away all I have to do
I pack my bag and walk out on you hold on to something new I'll take whatever comes my way whatever I've said and done the trouble my dear has just begun your heart so warm
I never meant to do you harm I promised the world to you there comes a day when you feel
it was all in vain
I never meant to cause you pain
all I ever do
I dream myself away from you where skies were never blue today I'll blow it all away
all I have to do
I pour my hate all over you your room without a view today you'll disappear away
