De/Vision, Circulate

you, you say a word to me you like what makes me see I want to give myself to you I must find a way a way to make you stay I need you here today 'cause I really want to love you now please don't let me pray though you let me dowm again and again I can feel your cold heart's flame I lost my self in you in you

I say hello to you your blossom makes me blue yes, I really want to hurt you now say you want me to someone is trying to tear us apart trust can be broken by one word spoken words are hard to hide spoken words are hard to hide but when we trust in eachothers heart it's a lack of confidence a lack of confidence circulate, circulate, circulate I circulate in your arms circulate... circulate... circulate...
