De/Vision, See What I See

All people are born alike Most people get terrified when it comes to sacrifice Blind on the mind's eye All people are born alike Some people may decide not to be on your side Blind on the mind's eye

I'm in control I need no-one Not to tell me how I feel How does it feel now?

I've never been good company Mu hallucinations comfort me If only you If you could see what I see There ain't no doubt It's plain to see I'm bound by your biology If only you If you could see what I see
