

De/Vision, The Day's Not Done (Telekommander

No one left to fight for
No one here to hit me in the face
No one left to fight for
Don't let it go away
No one left to cry for
Who is gonna kick you when I'm gone
No one left to cry for
Don't make it go away

I know that the day will come
I know we will be as one
I can see the day is not yet done I'm holding on
I know that the day will come
I know we will be as one
I feel that a new life has begun
I'm holding on

No one left to die for
No one there to catch you while I fall
No one left to die for
Don't make me... just go away
