

Deacon Blue, Don't Let The Teardrops Start

Tomorrows a holiday and we will be high all day
Singing and playing shows and going as far as the country bus goes
And the bands will be swinging as high as the swing boat goes
And the trees will be swaying and the boats will be heading out to the sea

Hey don't let the teardrops start for all of the times you've had
Go now and rest your weary heart
Tomorrow is near

Cos' all the friends are departing the night skies are parting
Late drinkers are singing their way home and the tower bell is ringing over the ????
Seems like the country is smiling the good times returning
Don't let your eyes start clouding and your old songs start bringing you down again

Go now and rest your weary heart
Tomorrow is near

Hey don't let the teardrops start for all of the times you've had
Go now and rest your weary heart
Tomorrow is near
