Dead Can Dance, Xavier

Fair Roseanna your vagrancy's a familiar tale Fraught with danger the lives you led were judged profane

Hatred enfolds us Inculcates the minds with it's heresy Laymen enfold us Clemency arrives to set you free

Faith
Although Xavier has prayed
That life-giving waters may rain
Down on the souls of man
To cure them of their ways

These were the sins of Xavier's past Hung like jewels in the forest of veils Deep in the heart where the mysteries emerge Eve bears the stigma of original sin

Freedom so hard when we are all bound by laws Etched in the seam of nature's own hand Unseen by all those who fail in their pursuit of faith

Although Xavier has prayed That life-giving waters may rain Down on the souls of man To cure them of their ways

And as the night turns into day Will the sun illuminate your way Or will the nightmares come home to stay Xavier's love lies in chains

These were the sins of Xavier's past Hung like jewels in the forest of veils
