Dead Kennedys, Forest Fire

No junk food, just earthly goods I ate weird berries in the woods Now I'm seeing colors I'm getting higher I think I'll start a forest fire

There's a forest fire climbin' the hill Burnin' wealthy California homes Better run run run run run From the fire

But some of us stay and watch And we think of your insurance cost And we laugh laugh laugh laugh laugh At your lives

Windows covered with bars Security guards Is that a house or a fortress Against the world

Windows covered with bars Security guards Is that a house or a prison How you gonna get out?

Electric bull and your tennis courts Pink sports cars and your boat Getting fried fried fried fried fried By the fire

Windows covered by bars Floodlights for the yard It's a pleasure to watch you Watch it all melt

But hey! What about the cocaine Stockpiled in the basement Be a hero and save it You know you're gonna need it Where's your brand new pretty wife She might still be inside Either save her or your cocaine from the fire But the gates and doors are locked 'Cause the burglar alarms went off Ever wonder why we laugh laugh laugh At your lives

Windows covered with bars Fences spiked with barbed wire Never looked so helpless Engulfed in flames Cameras watchin' the walls Don't forget the dogs Now you're trapped in your prison How you gonna get out See the gerbil Run run run run run run run from the fire
