

Dead Or Alive, Brand New Lover (Single Version)

Your sweet nature, darling, was too hard to swallow
I've got the solution, I'm leaving tomorrow
And now as I stand and stare into your eyes
I see safety there, I want surprises

What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
What I really need to do is find a brand new lover

When you wake up tomorrow, you'll be all alone
Oh, the love that we had I have quickly outgrown
I wanted to stay, but I just couldn't do it
Couldn't stand there and put you through it

What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others

Now other loves will tell you that
I'm nothing but a pleasure-seeker
And for once I really must agree
I need to leave you by yourself
And go in search of someone else to satisfy my curiosity

Your sweet nature, darling, was too hard to swallow
I've made my decision, I'm leaving tomorrow

What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
What I really need to do is find a brand new lover

What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
What I really need to do is find a brand new lover

What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
What I really need to do is find myself a brand new lover
Somebody with eyes for me who doesn't notice all the others
